A Note from the STS Director

I want to extend a heartfelt thank you to all of you who shared your thoughts re: the STS Director search. The feedback was extremely helpful, and will be instrumental in informing our decision process. We are taking the time to carefully review all the responses, so please know that your comments are being considered for action. If you have any further thoughts or concerns, please feel free to share. I look forward to sharing the outcome of the search with you soon.

STS Alumni Newsletter

Society Intersect: The Stanford Journal of Science, Technology & Society

STS 2015-2016 Events

A Note from the STS Director

For more information on applying to these programs, visit the Public Policy website.

Kinds of science and technology get funded, companies' ability to innovate technologically, and patents, what can be patented, technology transfer from the military to the civilian sector, what Public Policy has a profound impact on science and technology. It shapes who is likely to win a Firestone medal. Stanford Public Policy's Coterminal MA and MPP Programs

Other Opportunities

Connect With Us

Program in Science, Technology and Society

Program to Investigate and Reverse Clean Energy Impacts

Firestone Medal Winner - Vienna Harvey

Walter Vincenti Award Winner - Brandon Evans

Robert McGinn Award Winner - Jasmine Park

STS Senior Dinner

The Program in Science, Technology, and Society is heading into its 45th year, one of the largest, values, Technology, and Society. This make us one of the oldest STS programs in the country, and with over 200 undergraduate majors last year, one of the largest.

Internet: The Stanford Journal of Science, Technology & Society

We invite you to have a look at what the students are publishing in this peer-reviewed journal, which has been made open access online.

Invitations for the Senior Dinner will be emailed to all graduating seniors, gathered at the Holland-Yates

Senior Dinner

During the 2015 annual dinner for STS graduating seniors, seniors. The Class of 2016 surprised their guests and gathered together on June 12th to celebrate our STS

Intersect: The Stanford Journal of Science, Technology & Society

There are some exciting advancements happening with the Intersect. We are one of two undergraduate STS journals in the world and are excited to be a part of the growing STS interest.

The Stanford Alumni Mentoring (SAM). Registration is open throughout the year at the SAM.

Contact With Us

We will also have a short video message from a member of the program throughout the year.

Other Opportunities

Contact Us

If you have any questions or concerns, we are available by email (sts@stanford.edu) and phone (650-723-9868). We look forward to hearing from you.

To unsubscribe from this mailing list, please respond with the subject line "unsubscribe".